

Ritrama Environmentally Friendly Options

Ritrama expands its product offering by providing you with environmentally friendly conscious products. The polyvinylchloride-free films and overlaminates are new alternatives for environmentally friendly uses. Our polyolefin films and polyolefin overlaminates have no plasticizers, lead or phthalates in their constructions. They meet the current standards of safety for consumer products.

The new Digital Media and Overlaminates are environmentally friendly alternatives that are compatible with various printing methods including screen conventional, UV screen, offset conventional, UV offset, UV ink jet, hot stamp and thermal transfer.

The products are recommended for promotional applications including: point of purchase displays, counter graphics, trade show graphics, window graphics, and floor graphics among others.
